REPORT NEW SUCCESS FOR SOVIET FORCES AT STALINGRAD

German Losses Said To Average Full Division of 15,000 Men Daily

DYNAMITE BUILDINGS

Soviet Air Force is Back in Action After Long Inactivity

(By International News Service)

MOSCOW, Sept. 24—With German losses now averaging the appalling figure of a full division or 15,000 men daily, the battle of Stalingrad roared into its second month today and new successes were reported for the counter-attacking Russians.

The Nazi losses included such incidents as the dynamiting by Soviet sappers of one of Stalingrad's main business buildings which had been occupied by the enemy.

The large structure crumbled with a deafening roar when 250 pounds of dynamite were exploded by five Red army men who had volunteered to carry 50 pounds of explosives each.

At the same time, Soviet troops cut a main road at Goroditscha, five miles northwest of Stalingrad, dislodging the Germans from an occupied locality, probably Goroditscha itself.

With the Soviet air force back in action after a considerable period of inactivity and warships of the Caspian Sea fleet lobbing shells into the Nazi lines, from moorings in the Volga, the tempo of the battle mounted steadily.

At one point on the outskirts of Stalingrad where the Germans tried to break through, women workers in a tank factory leaped into tanks still standing uncommissioned in the factory yards and drove them against the Nazis, holding the enemy until night-fall when Russian reinforcements arrived.

Meanwhile, the Germans brought up new reinforcements and intensified their pressure in the Novorossisk-Mozdok area in an effort to capture a number of key heights. The Red army made frequent powerful counter-attacks.

Dog Catcher Gets 14 On First Day On Job

Bristol has a dog catcher and yesterday, his first day out, he caught 14 dogs.

There are still a number of unlicensed dogs and dogs running at large in Bristol, and it is these which the borough authorities are anxious to eliminate.

The campaign is to continue and dog owners are warned to procure licenses and to keep their dogs in accordance with the law.

Another drive will be made on Tuesday when the dog catcher will visit every section of the borough.

Film, "Tarzan's New York Adventure" Coming Here

A Tarzan movie is a happy combination of amazingly accurate fact and equally daffy fiction. It calls for a wide range of technical knowledge and skill on the one hand and pure imagination and invention on the other. The aim in films of the adventure type is to make them at all times plausible, if not actually possible.

These extremes are to be viewed side-by-side in "Tarzan's New York Adventure," coming to the Grand Theatre, Thursday, Friday and Saturday. A fable makes thrillingly realistic and acceptable Johnny (Tarzan) Weissmuller's most daring feat in the film, that of diving off the Brooklyn Bridge. It is legend that Steve Brodie jumped off the famous span.

A dive from the Brooklyn Bridge is not an impossibility. Any really fine and perfectly trained high diver, including Weissmuller, could safely accomplish the feat. But there is a catch. The swift current of the North River would mean almost certain death to the strongest swimmer. At the same time, Brodie's off-told and embellished story of his jump has been accepted as truth and legitimized and out-and-out fiction.

On the other hand, nothing could be more minutely authentic than the African jungle backgrounds, construction of the native villages, implements, decorations and proper presentation of native customs and pronunciation of the Swahili language. Credit for these items goes to the research department, which over a period of years has collected and assembled a wealth of photographic and multi-page records of native life for use of studio craftsmen, art directors, set designers, carpenters, painters, metal workers and scenic artists, who have the equipment and training to duplicate anything from a battleship to the Taj Mahal on short notice.

HERE AND THERE IN BUCKS COUNTY TOWNS

Activities of Interest To All In The Various Communities

GLEANEED BY REPORTERS

The cannon in Worstell Park, Newtown, is to be contributed toward the war effort. Borough council members are of the opinion that the cannon will serve a better purpose helping to win the present war than as a commemorative piece for World War I.

Council has also decided that the old trolley rails on State street, Washington avenue and Penn street are available to the government if it cares to have such removed.

Edward R. Barnsley, now serving in the U. S. Army, has resigned as a member of borough council.

The 50th anniversary of MacCalla Lodge, No. 596, F. & A. M., Sellersville, will be observed October 12th, with a dinner and program, in I. O. O. F. Hall, Sellersville.

Organized on October 25, 1892, this order has completed a half century of fraternalism and today has a membership of 258.

The speaker for the occasion will be Rev. Samuel Steinmetz, D. D.

61-Year-Old Woman Ends Her Life by Hanging

A 61-year-old Italian woman ended her life here this morning by hanging in the basement of her home at 318 Brook street.

The victim is Mrs. Carmela Marcantini. She had been in ill health for several years, members of her family state, and was worried about the condition of an ill daughter.

Discovery of the death of Mrs. Marcantini was made by her daughter, Mrs. Clara Brescia, at 10 o'clock. Mrs. Brescia, who arose shortly before 10 o'clock, discovered that her mother was not in bed, the latter not usually arising until noon. A search of the property revealed that the mother had evidently suspended herself to a hot-water pipe in the basement, then kicked a chair from under her feet.

In addition to her husband, two daughters survive, Mrs. Brescia, of Bristol; and Miss Antoinette Marcantini, who is a patient in a Trenton hospital.

It is believed that death had occurred about one hour previous to finding of the body. Dr. H. Clayton Moyer, Bucks County coroner, was notified by Bristol police.

The woman's husband and son-in-law were at their places of employment at the time.

BRISTOL WOMEN PROUD TO GET IN "SCRAP"; TO MAKE EVERY EFFORT AS INDIVIDUALS, ORGANIZATION MEMBERS

HUNDREDS ARE ALREADY SEARCHING THEIR PREMISES

Women of Bristol will "get in the scrap" throughout next week. It is the type of "scrap" they are proud to participate in, and homemakers as individuals, and as heads of community organizations, are backing the drive to the limit.

No one knows better than a housewife just how much "junk" can accumulate about the premises. But the metal and rubber will not be looked upon as "junk" when it is piled higher and higher—gaining such height it will topple on the Axis and bury it.

Every metal lamp stand, waffle iron, sandwich grill, flat-iron, metal clock or bedstead, stove, washing machine, boiler, metal sign or fence, old gun, electric fan, part of automobile or the entire car, old bicycle—all not needed or usable should be contributed to the war effort. The drive in Bristol starts Monday, September 28th, with collection on Page Four

Newtown Man Makes Hobby Of Writing Service Men

NEWTOWN, Sept. 24—The hobby of collecting addresses of soldiers—then writing to them—is a unique one which John L. Janney enjoys. And the beneficiaries of the frequent missives—the soldiers—are glad that Mr. Janney has such a hobby.

Mr. Janney, who says he has 62 or 63 soldiers' names, explains that his steady correspondence is approximately keeping in touch with 56 soldiers.

For more than nine months he has been corresponding with one of his friends in the armed forces. Mr. Janney, reading a story of a Doylestown soldier in a West Coast Army camp, thought he could cheer him up with a personal note and that's how he increases his correspondence.

Moser, has completed his basic Naval training at this Station and upon returning here from seven days' leave will be assigned to a school for Hospital Corpsmen.

BUNDLES FOR JAPAN! This pretty Miss is donating her bit to the "Bundles for Japan" drive put on by Falls City, Oregon, to collect all available scrap metal in the community for conversion into steel and weapons. And every bit counts, for anything metal that you have lying around will go into bombs, shells, bullets and other articles suitable for gifts for the Japs.

CHANGES PLEA FROM NOT GUILTY TO GUILTY

William Harvey, Philadelphia, Is Placed on Probation For One Year

PAYS $100 AND COSTS

DOYLESTOWN, Sept. 24—Changing his plea from not guilty to guilty, following the presentation of the Commonwealth's evidence, William Harvey, 34, 2240 North 7th street, Philadelphia, was placed on probation for one year by Judge Boyer on condition that he pay the costs of prosecution and the sum of $100 in lieu of a fine at a session of criminal court.

Private P. L. Newton, South Langhorne sub-station Penna. Motor Policeman, arrested the motorist March 22 after his car ran into the bank at the intersection of Chicken Foot road and a Bristol township route.

Dr. J. Fred Wagner, Bristol physician, who pronounced the man unfit to operate a car, produced the most damaging testimony and following his withdrawal from the witness chair the defendant decided to plead guilty.

"It is very much to your credit that you changed your plea," Judge Boyer said to the 34-year-old truck driver who was never in any previous trouble. "If you had gone on the witness stand and convinced the Court that you were lying it would have been very much against you," said Judge Boyer.

"Any defendant has the right to change his plea from not guilty to guilty, after his counsel has had, for the first time, the correct version of the Commonwealth's side of the case," Judge Boyer said.

CRASHES INTO POLE; NOT SERIOUSLY HURT

Robert J. McCarthy, Croydon, Believes He Fell Asleep At The Wheel

CAR BADLY DAMAGED

A young man was slightly injured and the Bristol traffic light system was put out of working order temporarily, early today, when an automobile driver fell asleep at the wheel of his car and struck a pole.

The accident occurred in front of the Barton gas station on Pond street at about four o'clock. The driver of the car, Robert J. McCarthy, Cedar avenue, Croydon, was slightly hurt. He was treated at the Harriman Hospital and then discharged.

McCarthy told police that he had worked up until midnight and then driven to Trenton to visit a friend. Returning, he fell asleep at the wheel, he believes, and crashed into the pole. The car was considerably damaged.

Officers Sackville and Dugan took the injured man to the hospital and the car had to be towed from the scene.

McCarthy told police that he is to be inducted into the army soon, and that he drove to Trenton for the purpose of acquainting his girl friend of this fact.

LATEST NEWS BULLETINS

Destroyer Jarvis Sunk

Washington—Indicating the ferocity of the battle for the Solomons, the Navy today announced that the American destroyer Jarvis has been sunk with all hands on board and that a small auxiliary transport also has been destroyed, but that half of the personnel of the latter have been rescued.

While no official figures were given on personnel losses, the complement of the Jarvis was believed to be approximately 175 and the second vessel, the U. S. S. Little, at 150 to 200.

This would place the American losses in the two sinkings unofficially at 250 or more officers and men. Skippers of both ships were reported lost. They were Lieut. Commander William Walter Graham, Jr., a native of Palmyra, N. J., and a resident of Phoenix, Ariz., who commanded the 1,500-ton Jarvis.

Lieut. Comdr. Gus B. Lofberg, a native of South Manitou, Mich., whose home address is listed as Santa Cruz, Cal., was in charge of the Little. Presumably these two vessels were engaged in reinforcing and supplying American garrisons who have been holding the southern Solomons against repeated Japanese land, sea and air attacks.

The latest sinkings bring to about 19 the number of American vessels sunk and damaged since U. S. Marines captured six Solomon islands from the Japanese early in August.

In addition to those reported today, Naval officials announced the sinking of the destroyer Blue, the auxiliary transport Calhoun, and one cruiser. In addition, two cruisers, two destroyers and one transport have been classified as damaged by Japanese forces.

SENTENCE JONES TO PAY $25 FINE AND COSTS OF CASE

Jury Returns Verdict of Guilty Against A Bristol Man

ASSAULT AND BATTERY

Prosecutor Was William Bingham, of Eddington Park

DOYLESTOWN, Sept. 24—Trial started Tuesday in the case of Commonwealth against William Jones, 26, of 328 Roosevelt street, Bristol, charged with assault and battery alleged to have been committed on William Bingham, 46, night superintendent of the Manhattan Soap Company of Bristol.

The verdict was brought in yesterday afternoon, with Jones being found guilty of the charges. He was sentenced to pay a fine of $25 and costs of the case.

The defendant, Jones, well known in Bristol, is employed by Fleetwings, Inc. Well-known county residents, including several "Row" office holders and prominent Bristol citizens, all testified that Jones' reputation for good behavior has "always been excellent."

The case involves a family fight in which a father accuses his daughter and the daughter blames her father.

Jones was arrested on June 26th. Bingham, the prosecutor, claims that about 2:30 on the morning of June 26, Jones returned to the Bingham home at Eddington Park, with Florence Bingham, 24, the prosecutor's daughter, and that all the occupants of the machine were intoxicated.

Bingham said he questioned his daughter about being out so late with Jones, and when he did, Jones jumped out of the car and struck him across the face, knocking him unconscious in the lane. Bingham also testified that when he fell to the ground, his own daughter, Florence, kicked him in the face. He said the next he knew is when he woke up the following morning, without his undershirt or shirt, and one shoe missing.

Bingham said that he objected to his daughter, Florence, taking her little sister, Dorothy, 8, out to night clubs with other people, and staying all hours of the night.

Mrs. Georgianna (Nancy) Bingham, a divorcee, and a sister of the prosecutor, was an occupant of the car the night the alleged drunken party arrived back at the Bingham home at 2:30 a. m. Mrs. Bingham is employed as a waitress by a well-known Philadelphia restaurant chain.

The defendant, Jones, testified that he knew Bingham from the time he worked at the same soap works with him. Jones said that he had been out with Miss Florence Bingham on a number of occasions and that her father had never voiced any objection.

The night in question, June 26, Jones said that Miss Bingham and her aunt, Mrs. Bingham, met him in an automobile and they started out for a Thursday night trip to a night club on Torresdale avenue. They saw a floor show, remained at the club about two hours and returned back to Eddington. On the way down to Torresdale they stopped at a tap room in Croydon where Miss Bingham is employed as a waitress two nights a week.

"There was nobody drunk in the car coming home," Jones testified. "Mrs. Bingham was driving and there was nothing wrong."

"When we arrived at the Bingham home, I saw Flossie's father in the lane, waiting. An argument was started by Bingham and when his daughter Flossie got out of the car, he struck her in the face and knocked her down in the lane, swearing loudly at her. Then as she was lying on the ground

At Stalingrad the Russians set an all time record for heroic resistance.

And at Moscow, the opera goes on as usual, the symphony plays Shostakovich's Seventh Symphony.

That will surprise some of our prissy citizens who sound off on complacency.

No one will deny that the Russians are a rough, tough people, fiercely patriotic

THE SEA FRONTS

The Japanese army in Manchuria may soon be forced to move into Siberia, if for no other reason than to try to divert world attention from the obvious edge which the American Navy has gained in recent encounters with the Japanese navy.

This accomplishment of the American Navy in wrestling the advantage from the Japs was referred to by Rear Admiral W. H. Blandy who, returning to Washington from a 26,000-mile inspection trip, officially asserted that "for the time being, most certainly, the United States has gained the advantage over Japan. He added that the American Navy can hold the Japanese where they are and he urged that we "keep pushing them back."

No close observer can say that, as yet, America has made much progress with a counter-offensive nor that it may come soon unless the Japanese make some new blunder such as attacking the Siberian army, with its unknown present strength. European fronts continue to demand the major part of American efforts.

One of the boons of recent Pacific action has been the opportunity for testing some new weapons. The nation has, the Navy has reported, a five-inch dual purpose gun which is the best naval anti-aircraft gun in the world. Rear Admiral Blandy said that production of the 22 mm light gun and 40-mm Bofors is now adequate for arming not only all the new ships, but also some of the older ones.

Similarly, things are looking better on the marine front in the Atlantic. London announces that more German submarines have been sunk to date than were sunk in the entire last war. No specific figures on enemy submarine losses are available, but the Italians and Japanese have also dipped deeply into their submarine pools.

The worst spot on the Atlantic shipping map is on the route to Murmansk. That problem must be solved before Russia will get enough new planes to enable her to stop such concerted German superdivers as at Stalingrad, or to embark on winter counter-offensives.

United States Treasury has taken in more than $16,000,000,000 so far this year, over $3,000,000,000 of it from War Bond sales. Uncle Sam's nephews certainly aren't niggardly in supplying the old boy with funds.

A flier made four trips across the Atlantic in five days without becoming seasick, but it's a safe bet he was sick of the sea.

crying he kicked her. That is when I grabbed Bingham and pulled him away, but I never struck him or knocked him down. Bingham was not unconscious, and he did walk into his own home and turn on the light."

Mrs. Georgianna Bingham, 33, the prosecutor's sister, gave her version of the affair, as a member of the night club party. She said that her niece, Flossie, had a couple of beers on the night of June 26, but that no one in the party showed one bit of intoxication. She described how Flossie's father kicked his own daughter in the face after first knocking her to the ground.

Changes Plea From Not Guilty To Guilty

William Morrisville; Katharine S. Morrisville; C. Harold Perry; Perkasie; Gertrude V. Schroeder; Furlong; Ruth C. Cramer; Keller's church; Wilmer Cressman; Pleasant Valley; Theodore C. Morris; Telford; and John Fulmer, Blooming Glen.

Pleading guilty to larceny and receiving stolen goods, Frederick B. Ruff, 40, 118 Mary street, of this place, as given a suspended sentence by Judge Boyer and placed on probation for one year on condition that he pay the Pennsylvania State Department of highways for a fire extinguisher and the costs of prosecution.

Ruff, who returned one of the two extinguishers stolen from the local State Highway Building, was arrested by Private John P. Mitchell, Doylestown sub-station Pennsylvania Motor Policeman. The theft amounted to $16.

Register of Wills Edward B. Watson served as a character witness for Ruff, who was never in any previous trouble. He is now employed in a Philadelphia defense industry.

With the consent of the prosecutrix, Mrs. Blanche Pone, the mother of eight children, and wife of the defendant, Angelo Pone, 36, Garden street, Bristol, and Assistant District Attorney Willard S. Curtin, Judge Calvin Boyer directed a verdict of not guilty and directed also that the costs of prosecution be placed on the county. The husband, Angelo Pone, was charged with assault and battery on his wife, although the wife in court made it clear she wanted something about her domestic relationship with her husband rather than have him convicted of crime.

Unfortunately, the wife was not in court with the probation officers of the county and through some error of Justice of the Peace had the wife charge the husband with assault and battery when something should have been done to straighten out their domestic difficulties," said Judge Boyer. Conviction of the father would have resulted in sending him to prison and his wife and eight children would have had no support.

Judge Boyer directed the father, who earns $32 a week and gives his wife and children only $20 of it, "to watch his step and under no circumstances maltreat his wife and children."

The jury was composed of Mary Helene Fretz, Pipersville; Nora P. Holmes, Doylestown; Hardy D. Frank, Richlandtown; Pauline S. Rupp, Quakertown, R. D. 1; Katharine Gombert, Sellersville, R. D.; Ernest Bardsley, Almont; Herbert P. Kugler, Point Pleasant; Franklin Mann, Jr., Perkasie; R. Randolph Pursel, Mechanicsville; Frank E. Veit, South Langhorne; Joseph F. Hadler, Doylestown; Albert M. Haldemann, Eddington.

Practically an entire day was taken up in county criminal court Tuesday when Bucks county's "No. 1 Trouble Makers" were before President Judge Hiram H. Keller to air their domestic differences.

It was the case of the Commonwealth against one well known Thomas Beatty, 55-year-old Irish, submarine battery maker, of Eureka. His equally well-known wife, Winifred, was the prosecutrix, who was represented by the Commonwealth's attorney, Edward G. Biester. The defendant's interests were cared for by Attorney Wilbur VanDine, of Doylestown.

Both of the Beattys have been in court a dozen times before. This time the charge, brought by the wife, was assault and battery, and a jury of ten women and two men put the finishing touches to Beatty, returning a verdict of guilty as he stood indicted, but they admitted afterward that they would have liked to divide the costs in the case, had they taken a second thought. Judge Keller fined Beatty $100 and costs, suspended a prison sentence and gave him strict orders to lay off drinks, whiskey, beer and all their associates for the next six months. In the meantime, Probation Officer Horace E. Gwinner is to continue to look after the affairs of the Beattys as he has for months.

"The court has no fault to find with this verdict," Judge Keller remarked. "But I'm just wondering whether it would not have been better to make this a fifty-fifty affair and divided the costs between the prosecutrix and the defendant. (Here the jurors nodded their heads in assent.)"

"You two people have caused this Court more trouble than any half dozen cases before this court in the last 10 years. We have looked after your domestic affairs for years, getting you both out of debt and started out anew, and still you turn up again. You have been a headache to Probation Officer Gwinner, who has been your nurse, looking after your domestic affairs."

"When you have liquor aboard, Tom Beatty, you think that you own the world. When you are sober, you are a fine fellow. And you, Mrs. Beatty, can't keep your mouth shut. You just delight in having your husband arrested. You don't cook his meals and you don't launder his clothes, and you go out to work instead of staying home and taking care of the house."

"I don't know what to do with either one of you. If there is anybody living who can tell me what to do in this case, I'd like them to speak up. What I should do is send you both down to jail for a time and then you, Mrs. Beatty, would know what it's like."

"The Probation Officer informs me that Mrs. Beatty is starting a divorce proceedings against her husband, and I'm quite sure that it is the only way to settle the domestic differences of this family. The Court does not like to advise a divorce but you certainly will both be better off."

Clinton Macklin, Trenton Negro, went on trial before Judge Keller on a charge of driving while drunk on the River Road, Morrisville, on September 7th, at five p. m., when his car is alleged to have caused the wreck of two other cars besides the one he was driving. No one was injured in the accident. The other car owners were Ross Scantz, Princeton avenue, Trenton, and Caleb Forster, Morrisville.

Dr. Theodore Cohen, Morrisville, who examined the defendant after he had been arrested by a Morrisville policeman, testified that Macklin was extremely drunk and unfit to operate an automobile.

Macklin changed his plea to guilty, and Judge Keller sentenced the Negro to pay a fine of $150 and costs and serve 30 days to one year from the day of commitment. If the fine and costs are paid within 10 days, the prison sentence will be suspended, the Court informed Macklin.

FASHION PARADE

By Orry Kelly

(Famous Hollywood Stylist Writing For International News Service)

HOLLYWOOD—(INS)—Hand knitted woolen garments will be at their best this Fall. Aside from helping to fill the gap left by restrictions on the use of 100 per cent wool fabrics, they will be popular for their interesting surfaces, such as worsteds, tweeds and basket weaves—surfaces that government priorities are forcing out of some woven fabrics.

Knitted wool details, in hand interpretations as well as machine, will gain in favor too. Knitted backs and fronts, sleeves and backs, yokes, vests, plastrons, collars and cuffs will give the simple straight-lined Fall dresses straight lines, with broad shoulders and suits a more decorative look, and pocket detail featured. Gold buttons are used for trim.

A straight-lined jumper, of grey herringbone wool-mixture, that Alexis Smith wears in Warner Bros' "The Constant Nymph" is made particularly attractive by giving it grey knitted sleeves and vestee.

Milo Anderson has deftly employed wool knit in a striking skating ensemble for pert Jane Wyman, who at present is working in Warner Bros' "Princess O'Rourke." The skirt and bodice of the top are of rich lavender synthetic wool, but the wide waistband and long sleeves are of bright green wool knit. Long knitted gaiters and stocking cap are also of the green wool knit.

Bright colors will be available in knits this Fall too. Rich reds, vital greens and a large range of blues will be the most popular. Mary Astor wears a tailored knit coat designed by Milo Anderson in Warner Bros' "Across the Pacific." It is of bright red and combines two weaves in its pattern—a plain and a ribbed. It is styled on tions in various wards on designated days during that week.

Bristol Women Proud To Get in "Scrap"

"Bundles for Japan" is the way some women are looking at the scrap metal and rubber drive. They are the type of bundles that will be used "against" the enemy. The metal will be used in guns, ships, tanks, bombs, shells, etc. The rubber will be used for tires for motor-driven field pieces, other types of vehicles, and in other ways necessary for the war effort.

Bristol women are most enthusiastic in backing the move. They are "All Out for Victory"—really getting in the "scrap."

Heads of nine women's organizations in Bristol, acting as spokesmen for an aggregate membership of nearly 800, are most enthusiastic in plans for the big drive. The women affiliated with the different organizations are planning an all-out effort, and are already making complete searches of their homes.

"I think the scrap metal drive is a wonderful thing," said Mrs. Leo Lynn, president of the Lower Bucks County Council of Republican Women, when approached today relative to the campaign. "If we are going to win this war we must get our scrap together. The situation is serious. We must get out the scrap metal and keep the steel mills going." Mrs. Lynn is requesting that the 127 members of the council back the drive to the limit, search their premises for metal and rubber not needed or used, and help in the big effort.

The Travel Club spokesman for the drive is Mrs. Harry Neher, vice-president. Mrs. Neher, who regards such a drive as "very necessary," states that "No doubt everyone has something to contribute to the drive. Every item, no matter how small, will be of help." Mrs. Neher, whose family has been saving bottle caps for the time when such will be called for, plans among other things to give a worn-out sandwich grill to the scrap metal drive. She asks that the 96 members of the Travel Club give their full support to the effort.

The American Legion Auxiliary of Robert W. Bracken Post, which numbers 131 members, will also aid as individual members. Mrs. Fred Bryner, president, is asking all to back the move. "It's a good idea to have such a round-up of unused metal and rubber," is Mrs. Bryner's opinion.

"Anything necessary to win the war should be pushed to the limit," is the opinion of Mrs. Louis Townsend, recording secretary of Camp 89, Patriotic Order of Americans. Mrs. Townsend, one of the 65 members of that organization who are being urged to aid in the drive, states that a clock with metal parts, long unused, will be brought from the attic and added among other things from her household to the scrap pile.

An unused electric stove will be a contribution to the drive from Mrs. Joseph McCarron, president of the Junior Travel Club. Mrs. McCarron is urging the 59 members of the Junior Club to give every available piece to the campaign in order to keep the steel mills operating and to add to the pile of needed rubber. "The drive is a good thing to plan," is the belief of the president.

Mrs. Max R. Seigel, president of the "36 for Victory" group here, is glad that the drive is getting underway. "I had iron from an old float that I saved for some time, anxious to donate it, and only recently I put it into the proper channels for use again. Every one of our 36 members are backing the drive to the limit. I think everybody has things around which they don't know what to do with—things they no longer have use for. I, personally, plan to search the attic and cellar and garage, and will donate any rubber or metal piece found that is not being used or that is not usable otherwise. I'll be happy to do so."

The members of Council 58, Daughters of America, are urged by the Councilor, Mrs. George A. English, to further the cause by donating every available piece of metal and rubber not in use. "The plan to collect all such scrap is a wonderful idea," in Mrs. English's opinion.

The president of the Mothers' Association of Bristol public schools, Mrs. Earl McEwen, is of the belief that "Every person should dig and dig, and get out all the scrap from their premises possible." The 100 members of the Mothers' Association are participating in the drive, each woman searching her home for all available donations.

Another woman's organization in Bristol which is aiding in the drive is the Catholic Daughters of America. The 136 members are looking forward to next week as a time when they can not only clean up their premises of items of metal and rubber no longer needed, but aid in "scrapping" the Axis at the same time.

WICHITA, Kansas.—(INS)—Delinquent and shop girls work side by side on the production lines at the Cessna Aircraft Company of Wichita, which pioneered in the use of women in aircraft production and today has a higher ratio of feminine workers than any other plane manufacturer. Approximately 65 per cent of those currently being employed are women and the percentage of feminine production workers is now better than one out of four.

Residents Here Preparing For The Concert Season

"Music for everybody" has become a general movement in Bristol through the community concert courses presented here each season, asserted Dr. J. Fred Wagner, president of the Bristol Community Concerts Association.

"There is no need for anyone to present arguments for the worth of the community concerts after two years of successful programs as their record of outstanding performances by the finest artists speaks for itself.

"True, there are still some people for whom must be listed the cultural benefits derived from listening to fine music well-performed, but the fact that the number of these individuals grows smaller and smaller proves that the concert courses have filled a definite cultural and entertainment need in our community."

The drive for memberships will open at a dinner on Monday evening at Bowen's Restaurant.

Recently, Warren P. Snyder recalled he was impressed by the statement of a speaker for a group of junior musicians who said:

"The boys and girls who think they do not like music are the boys and girls who should study music. Their souls are lacking a vital quality that needs cultivating." For those who need to be reminded that the local concert courses should be supported, the same can apply for surely the personality that lacks appreciation for the beautiful in music is the personality that needs most to listen to every bit of fine music that can be brought to his ears.

"One of Bristol's fine characteristics," he continued, "is that those responsible for the education of our children, recognizing that an appreciation of the beautiful and tasteful in art is a vital part of a student's education, have included music as an in-

GIRLS' HOCKEY LEAGUE DISBANDS; NO TRANSPORTATION

Bensalem Owlettes Will Not Have To Defend Championship

HELD IT THREE YEARS

Plan A Large Intramural Schedule With Seven Teams

CORNWELLS HEIGHTS, Sept. 24.—The transportation problem has caused the disbanding of the Lower Bucks County Girls' Hockey League, and so the Bensalem Owlettes will not have to defend the championship they have held three years in succession.

Instead of league competition, the Bensalem school will have a large intramural schedule with seven teams composing a circuit of its own. Each team will have a captain who will be in full charge of the team. The teams will be over 11 players to a squad, giving an opportunity to some of the girls who never played varsity hockey.

During the past week, the girls have been encouraged to attempt to secure a position on one of the seven clubs and the school is now getting behind the league to make it an outstanding affair.

The managers of the league are Helen Dwyer and Elaine Miller. The teams and their captains are: Owles, Doris Gonzalez; WAAC's, Jean Stuhlinger; Rangers, Lillian Grupp; Pirates, Mildred Vansant; WAVES, Margaret Cook; WAFS, Betty Poston; Dodgers, Marie Brown.

The dropping of hockey has been a big disappointment to the girls since the sport had become quite a tradition about the Bensalem institution. But Coach Helen Smith and Manager Doris Gonzalez have not given up hope and if there is any possible way of several varsity games being scheduled, it will be done.

Miss Smith lost the services of the following through last year's graduation: Eleanor Hughes, Doris Ely, Doris Gribble, Grace VanHorn, and Lois Lange. But she still has a formidable squad which would have coped with the best in this section.

HIGH SCHOOL TO PLAY FIRST GAME, FRIDAY

After going through a vigorous four weeks training period, the boys of Coach "Lefty" Bartholomew, Bristol high, have entered the final week of football practice. The opening game will be with Trenton Catholic high school this Friday at Trenton, under lights. The local squad traveled on Tuesday to St. Francis Industrial School, Eddington, for a practice fray.

This scrimmage tilt was a very much needed one for the Red and Gray, because it gave the coaches of Bristol opportunity to look over their entirely new squad with the exception of Ray Smoyer, guard, and Paul Ruby, who is being converted into a tackle instead of a fullback, and to set them off on the right footing for the curtain-raiser of the pigskin season.

The Bunnies didn't seem up to par in this showing. Many things went wrong as was to be expected.

This was not a game because the teams started on the 50, had six downs each, and sometimes the play was called back to scrimmage. But later on, for about a quarter, the fellows were on their own.

The main thing that the Cardinal and Gray was having trouble with was blocking. The linemen were not upon their toes. Their men were able to steal through and break up the interference. The next hazardous problem was fumbling the ball. As soon as they would get their plays clicking, a back would let the ball slip through his fingers, and the opposition would recover the pigskin.

During the time in which the boys were on their own, Bristol seemed to have the advantage on yards gained on scrimmage, with 48 yards to 36 yards for St. Francis. But the "Hares" gained more yards than the home squad by taking to the airways.

The Bartholomew eleven had three first downs to their opponents one; while St. Francis had only three fumbles to their visitors' five.

"CHICK" CIALELLA JOINS COAST GUARD

One of Bristol's outstanding athletes, Joseph "Chick" Cialella, has joined the U. S. Coast Guard and is now in training at Curtis Bay, Md.

While a member of the Bristol high school football team several years ago, Cialella was chosen as All-County guard, despite his small stature and lack of weight.

He later played football with St. Ann's and with the Roebling Blue Centers. This season he was a member of St. Ann's baseball team and the Franklin softball club. He broke his collarbone while playing softball with Franklin and was laid up most of the season.

Cialella is the son of Mr. Charles Cialella, 424 Dorrance street, and before his enlistment was employed at Fleetwings, Inc.

ON THE SCREENS

BRISTOL THEATRE

One of the most delightfully entertaining movies of this or any other season made its debut yesterday at the Bristol Theatre as the new Irene Dunne comedy, "Lady in a Jam," proved to be an hour-and-a-half's laugh relaxation.

Produced and directed by Gregory La Cava, the film had the audience chuckling in the opening scenes, laughing in the middle and howling at the end.

"The Panther's Claw," the thrilling murder-mystery shocker which is at the moment keeping Bristol Theatre fans on the edges of their seats, has been dedicated to the Police Department of the City of New York.

RITZ THEATRE

Pretty co-eds and husky college lads were taken for a laugh-filled ride last night at the Ritz Theatre when "All-American Co-ed," Hal Roach's latest stream-lined comedy with music, was unveiled at its local premiere.

The ablest of fiction's super-detectives could have profited by a visit to the Ritz Theatre last night. In "Kid Glove Killer" the super-sleuth would have picked up some examples of scientific crime detection that would put his vaunted observation and deduction powers to shame.
